

○草月 Sogetsu School

Sogetsu Ikebana can be created anytime, anywhere, by anyone in any part of the world and with any kind of material. Plants are the products of mother nature, but the basic principle of Sogetsu is “ikebana reflects the person who arranged it.” Flowers, no matter how beautiful, come from nature. We are the ones, using these natural materials, to create beauty with our feelings. This is different from natural beauty. As we all differ from one another with different personalities, each plant has its own expression.
